OOCL reading for Sunday

The Tank Road to Victory

"The Tank has changed the war," says Hilaire Belloc. Two important articles by Austin C. Lescarbura, associate editor of "Scientific American," and by Theodore M. Knappen tell of the amazing development and tremendous efficiency of the modern tank fleets on the battlefield, and how America is hiding her plans to overwhelm the Kaiser with this new steel cavalry.

Rudyard Kipling

In "The Second Sailing of the Mayflower" Kipling tells a beautiful story of the American Army abroad—a noble subject for a master's pen. You will surely enjoy it.

The Evil Soul of Germany

More revelations regarding the Hun, by Dr. Wilhelm Mühlon, former director of Krupp's.

The Bolsheviki's Deadly Oratory

An eye witness' story of the strangling of Russia's attempt at represensative government.

-Making America Safe for War Workers

First of a series of articles showing the tremendous extent and importance of the housing problem around our great munition plants.

France's Fighting Power To-day

Startling facts and figures about the tremendous effort being made by our great ally, by Stephan Lauzanne, editor in chief of "Le Matin," and member of the French War Mission to the United States.

Hilaire Belloc

Britain's famous war critic says that since Marshal Foch has proved our military superiority over the Germans the only danger to complete victory is disunion among the Allies.

The Change in Operatic Management

Chapter Three of Memoirs of a Decade of Opera, by H. E. Krehbiel.

Foch Seizes the Offensive

An interesting analysis of the great Allied victory on the Western

Tribune Graphic

Thrilling gravure pictures of the war showing our own boys and their comrades in arms at work and at rest. Japanese Marines and Czecho-Slovak troops on guard in Vladivostock.

Also portraits of the ranking Japanese general and Major General Graves, who is heading the American Expedition in Siberia. The latest thing in service flags.

Society at Newport

How New York tried to keep cool during the recent record breaking heat. Another page of American war heroes.

Hill takes a look around town and pictures some of the queer things "Us Mortals" are doing.

Tribune Review

A digest of interesting things going on in the world. Warburg steps out to serve.

The Hun alphabet.

The Russian Bear still breathes.

Keeping up on the Magazines.

America's over-a-quarter-of-a-million-a-month. How to make a Hun behave. Etchings by the Spanish artist Leonardo Alenza. Germany's Socialism of the sword.

"The Amateur," a French War Story.

Another sprightly page from the "Stars and Stripes," our soldiers' newspaper published in France.

—and lots more you will enjoy.

Tribune Institute

Brimming with interest for the womenfolk. What awaits Paul Chapman in a Reformatory. How Minnesota laws have been revised for children. Keeping the cook cool and comfortable. "Beady-to-eat" foods. "Ready-to-eat" 100ds.
Fruit and vegetable cocktails.
"Putting up" the peaches.
How to keep your medicine bottle out of mischief.
Daily menus for the week. Tested recipes and other important helps.
